Ben Lomond, hail! Our hearts o'er-	As sunlight mingles with the shades,
flowed	While here it brightens, there it fades,
With joy when first our eyes	Thus in the lengthening vale of life
Beheld thy summit as it glowed	The lights and shades contend in strife.
In the sunlight's shifting dyes.	May light prevail, the shadows fly,
	And give to all a cloudless sky!
Ben Lomond, hail! We stand to-day	As after the sun has gone to rest
Where we rejoice to stand—	He leaves the glow of his beam in the
Upon thy brow, whence far away	West,
The views sweep o'er the land.	So when this day of festivity's past,
	Its fond recollection shall pleasingly last.
Forth let us look o'er earth until	As memory has an echoing hall,
The Saviour's words we feel—	Prolonging the tones of the song as they
The Church, a city on a hill.	fall,
Ye watchmen, guard her weal.	So gratitude, memory sweet of the heart, Shall prolong this delight long after we part.
High, lifted o'er the gloom afar	As we look from this height on the land-
That wraps the misty vales,	scape below,
She stands for all a guiding star	See village and plains and streams as
Whose light each wanderer hails.	they flow,
McMinnville, hail! For 'tis to thee,	See uplands and forests of varied hue
Thou highland gem, we owe	Engirdled by mountains far-sweeping and
This festal hour, this social glee	blue,
Which sets our hearts aglow.	So, life's travel ended, may each of us
Ye stranger friends, whose hearts and	stand
homes	On Pisgah's bright summit, o'erlooking
We warm and open found,	that land
Where'er each brother present roams,	Of brightness and beauty, the home of
To you each, all are bound.	the blest,
As shadows o'er yon landscape fly,	Where the wearied ones forever shall
While clouds are borne along the sky,	rest.

We would urge that in our cities and towns all places of business be closed, and that a sentiment be created against picnics and excursions on the Sabbath day, offering inducements to draw the people away from the churches. We would also urge that our ministers preach on Sabbath observance at least once a year, and that our members assist in the proper observance of this day.

SUPPLEMENT.—REPORTS ADOPTED.

TEMPERANCE.

For many years the Methodist Church has made unceasing war on the liquor traffic; its members have long been active and aggressive in the cause of temperance reform, and we rejoice that their efforts, aided by other Christian organizations, have resulted in driving the traffic from so large a portion of our country. We rejoice that the attitude of our Church upon this question has been so vigorous and aggressive and its energies so well directed that it has invited and received the criticism of the people and the press which defend the liquor traffic. Such criticism of the Church and of its ministers is praise of the highest order, and constitutes a testimonial to the splendid work which the Church, under the providence of Almighty God, has done to prevent and correct the evils of the liquor traffic. We call upon the members of the Church to sustain and uphold its ministers who have braved this opposition. They should exercise their suffrage so that the preaching of their ministers shall bear fruit. Christian men should vote as they pray, and we do unhesitatingly condemn the teaching of those who hold to the view that Christian ministers ought not to participate in the affairs of government. This doctrine, in our opinion, comes from a source more interested in the perpetuity of the liquor traffic than in the welfare of the ministers of the Church, and is therefore the veriest and most arrant hypocrisy. The only way to achieve reforms in government in a democracy is through the exercise of the elective franchise, the highest privilege of an American citizen. Too long have Christian men allowed those who break the laws to make them.

So long as the liquor traffic continues to menace the homes, the boys, and the morals and society of the country, so long as the liquor dealers continue to corrupt the electorate, it is the duty of our ministers and members not only to vote for the suppression of the traffic, but to use all legitimate and honorable argument to persuade others to do so.

Since in this State legislation is enacted by legislators acting in a representative capacity, we hold it to be the duty of every Christian elector to vote only for such candidates as stand committed to the abolition of the liquor traffic, and to oppose all candidates for public office who may be called upon to legislate upon the liquor question or to enforce the laws for its suppression who are not willing to place themselves in an attitude of open and sincere hostility to the whole nefarious business.

We are opposed to the liquor traffic in any form or guise, and to that end we urge the enactment of a law which shall forever prohibit the sale, manufacture, or storage of intoxicating liquors within the State of Tennessee. When such laws shall be placed upon the statute books, in order that the question may be removed from the field of partisan politics and the reforms once secured may be rendered forever secure, we urge the submission of a constitutional amendment embodying the above declarations. The adoption of such an amendment would write into our organic law the principles and the reforms for which this Church and Christian men of all denominations have so long prayed, worked, and voted.

We are earnestly in favor of the enactment of laws, State and national, to prohibit the shipment of intoxicants into territory where the sale thereof is inhibited by law.

We commend and approve the work of the Anti-Saloon League and the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, and pledge them our hearty and active coöperation in their efforts to carry into effect the declarations herein affirmed.

JOHN L. NOLEN, Chairman;

J. I. FINNEY, Secretary.

BOOKS AND PERIODICALS.

Your committee beg leave to report that they have had under consideration all papers that have been referred to them bearing on the publications of Smith & Lamar, Agents.

The Christian Advocate, our connectional organ, and the Epworth Era are reported as paying expenses but yielding no appreciable amount of profit. This condition should be changed by the earnest coöperation of all of the Conferences of our connection. The Advocate is ably edited, and its contributions are generally of a high order and well adapted to the needs of Methodist people. The series of communications by Dr. Moore, the assistant editor, while making a tour of the mission fields of the world are worthy of our highest commendation, and are well calculated to quicken the interest of the Church in her only enterprise.

The Epworth Era is edited by two of the most accomplished gentlemen in Southern Methodism, Drs. Du Bose and Parker; and their fine literary taste leads to the production of a paper that we can all rejoice to see in the hands of our young people. The treatment of the devotional topics is of a high order, and is characterized by that sanity of thought that renders them safe for the use of our Epworth Leaguers. Dr. Du Bose, in his editorial department, has put in some telling blows against the legalized liquor traffic, and his influence will no doubt tell in the years to come in the lives of the young people who will ultimately shape the policies of our government.

We note with pleasure the increased circulation of the Quarterly Review. This is a well-deserved recognition on the part of the public of the fine ability of its editor, Dr. Gross Alexander. We commend his effort to popularize this publication while at the same time preserving its dignity and strength. The contributions are uniformly on live subjects, and are written by men who have fitted themselves well for the work undertaken. We especially commend to preachers the able and discriminating review of books of recent publication.

The Sunday school literature is not only maintaining the high standard of past years, but has made a decided advance not only in the addition of new periodicals but in the quality of the old. The Adult Student should be put in the hands of every adult member of the Sunday school. The contributors to this periodical are of the best equipped in England and America. The treatment of practical methods in the conduct of organized classes is of the first order, and is most helpful to teachers and scholars. The Primary Teacher is a recent addition to our Sunday school periodicals, and meets in a most admirable way the wants of primary teachers that have hitherto been met by the publications of other denominations. We most heartily commend the work of Dr. Chappell, who is a member of our own Conference, and that of his trained assistants.

The Publishing House is supplying a universal need of our Church in the dissemination of literature in more permanent form than that of the periodicals referred to above. We should be glad to see the House able to keep on hand a larger stock of recent publications so that orders to the House might be filled directly and with a promptness that cannot be secured when reordered from the publishers. The folders advertising bargain sales by the Publishing House and sent out habitually to the preachers no doubt serve a useful purpose in disposing of books that have in a measure become obsolete and shelf-worn. We venture to suggest a more frequent use of the same method of advertising the new and up-to-date publications on sale at the House. We make this recommendation in order that our ministers who are not in touch with the great publishing houses may be informed as to the best products of the great bookmakers, and which books will be most helpful to them.

The Midland Methodist, our Conference organ, is maintaining its high position among the number of Conference organs, and is serving its constituency satisfactorily. A copy of this paper should be in every Methodist home within our bounds. The paper has a field and function, and in order to occupy the field and perform its function it must have a wider circulation. To this end we urge a coöperation with the Holston Conference in order to increase the circulation to ten thousand. We furthermore believe that the work to accomplish this increase ought to be done as early as possible in the Conference year.

C. W. BYRD, Chairman;

GEORGE M. BOYD, Secretary.

CHURCH EXTENSION.

We, your Board of Church Extension, beg leave to make the following report with reference to the communication of Dr. W. F. McMurry, General Secretary:

1. We heartily approve the movement set on foot by the General Board for building a church at Washington City which shall be in keeping with the standing of our great denomination in the capital city of our nation, and which shall in every way give us proper representation among the religious forces of the community.

2. We commend to your careful consideration the department of the "Savings Fund" adopted by the General Board, and recommend its use by our people contemplating the building or repairing of churches or parsonages at some future date.

The General Board will take all such savings on deposit and pay four per cent interest on the same until there is such an accumulation of the fund as to accomplish the desired purpose of building or repairing, said interest to be paid quarterly.

3. We also call attention to the Sunday school birthday offerings, which are asked for by the General Board. The money thus raised will be used for building churches in Oklahoma. Any Sunday school wishing to aid in this way will be furnished with jars for these offerings, free of charge, by writing Dr. W. F. McMurry, Secretary, at Louisville, Ky.

4. Through circular letters sent out by this Board to all the pastors, attention was called to the order of the General Board setting apart May 10, 1908, as "Loan Fund Day." From the best information at hand it seems that only a few of our Churches observed the day, and the amount collected was small. Our Board is exceedingly anxious to see our existing Loan Fund greatly increased and new funds created; and we therefore emphasize the request that those Churches which did not observe Loan Fund Day will do so.

5. The Conference Board respectfully requests that the presiding elders give it an opportunity at the District Conferences to properly represent the work of Church Extension.

The Board made the following appropriations:

Total	$3,000

The appropriation made to Windrow's was made on condition that when the church is put in good repair the money is to become available upon recommendation of the presiding elder.

The appropriation made to Priest is made payable when the walls are up and the roof is on.

The appropriation made to Bordeaux was made upon condition that this amount cancels all indebtedness on building and lot.

The appropriation made to Coalmont becomes available when the walls are up and the roof is on.

The donation made to the Evangelistic Hall, Nashville, is made on condition that the question of its legality be submitted to the next meeting of the General Board; and if held to be legal, the appropriation is to be paid.

BIBLE CAUSE.

We regret to report that many of our preachers neglect to take the collection for the American Bible Society as the Discipline directs; and that many of our strongest charges report almost nothing contributed to this great cause. There is no cause with better claims upon the sympathy and hearty support of the Church. It is cause for humiliation that our great Church contributes only about $4,000 annually to this great institution.

There is no greater interest than that represented by the American Bible Society.

But for the work done by it in translating the Word of God into the languages of the nations, all our missionary efforts would be seriously handicapped.

We note with pleasure the visit to our Conference of the Rev. H. C. Tucker, Agent of the Society in Brazil. He testifies to the great work being accomplished in South America through the American Bible Society by giving the people the Word of God in their own language.

In view of the pressing need of funds to carry on its work, and the indifference of our preachers and people to its claims, we respectfully recommend:

1. That all our pastors, as early as possible, inform their people of the proposition made by Mrs. Russell Sage, that she will give five hundred thousand dollars to the American Bible Society if the Protestant Churches in the United States will give a like sum.

2. That a day be set apart as early in the Conference year as possible as Bible Day, and that our pastors inform the people of the great needs and work of the American Bible Society.

W. H. DOSS, Secretary.

DISTRICT CONFERENCE RECORDS.

We, your Committee on District Conference Records, respectfully report as follows:

The records of the Nashville, Dickson, and Murfreesboro Districts are neat and correctly kept.

The records of the Lebanon District are well kept, with the exception of a few ink blots.

The records of the Savannah and Franklin Districts are models of accuracy and neatness.

The record of the Clarksville District is neat and well arranged, and we dislike to criticise it. But we think, in speaking of the different Societies, they should be designated by their full names, and not by abbreviations. For instance, the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society should not be designated as the "F. M. Society," or the "Foreign Society," as is done in this record. If abbreviations are used, they should be such as correctly designate the name abbreviated.

The Fayetteville District Record is typewritten, and is a model in neatness and arrangement; but the secretary appears to get in a hurry in the recording of pastors' reports, and fails to give the names of several pastors whose reports are recorded.

The Columbia District Record is well kept, except in abbreviations. To instance, for Foreign Missionary Society "For. Mis." is recorded; "pres." for presiding elder.

On the whole, all the records are well kept.

Respectfully submitted.

EPWORTH LEAGUE BOARD.

We note with pleasure the increasing growth and prosperity of the Epworth League in Southern Methodism. There are at present approximately 128,000 members in the organization, and last year there was raised for missions and general evangelism $140,000. These figures show the possibilities of organized young life in the progress of the Church.

We regret that this state of advancement is not equally marked within the bounds of our own Conference. Along some lines progress has been made, but in others we have not held the place the League should occupy in every community.

We are further persuaded that the success or failure of the League is largely due to the attitude of the local pastor.

The Epworth Era has been materially improved in make-up and general appearance. We suggest that the paper be devoted more largely to the practical side of Epworth League work, and that it be made more of a forum for plans and methods of the Epworth League.

We commend the organization and work of the Tennessee Annual Epworth League Conference, and urge the coöperation of our pastors in all plans for securing attendance and interest in the coming Conference. We should be glad to have, especially from the rural districts, a larger enthusiasm for this gathering of young people.

It is quite evident that the greatest need of our work, both in the country and city, is trained workers; hence we look with favor upon the idea of establishing somewhere within our State an assembly ground as a gathering point for our young people.

We call special attention to the great importance of mission study for our Epworth Leaguers. The educational department of the Board of Missions is prepared to furnish complete instructions upon requests sent to Rev. Ed F. Cook, Nashville, Tenn.

A. M. TRAWICK, JR., Chairman;

GEORGE R. ALLEN, Secretary.

SUNDAY SCHOOL BOARD.

God has graciously blessed the Sunday school work during the past year. More interest has been awakened, especially in the country schools, than ever before. More of them have had Children's Day services than any previous year, and a much greater interest is manifested in Sunday school work. We regret that there is not the same interest in the city and larger town schools. We have visited three District Conferences and a number of schools. Our Agent, Rev. William M. Green, has visited many of our city schools, some twenty-four in number, carrying sunshine into them. He has done a fine work, and we as a Board unanimously ask the Bishop to reappoint him as Agent of the Sunday School Board for the ensuing year.

There is a painful need of more consecrated, qualified Sunday school workers and teachers. There are many places in the Conference where it is difficult to find men or women who are willing to undertake this most important service. We would recommend to every school the organization of teacher-training classes, and do most earnestly urge the absolute necessity of teachers' meetings in every school. We also recommend that class organizations be had wherever practicable, and that these be used by the pastor and schools as working aids in building up the schools and bringing the people to church and to God.

Our aim is: "Children's Day services and a collection in every school in the Conference." We most earnestly ask the hearty coöperation of every pastor and presiding elder in this work.

Brother C. C. Miller, lay member of the Board from the Savannah District, has moved out of the bounds of the Tennessee Conference, and has tendered his resignation as a member. We most respectfully ask the presiding elder of that district to fill this vacancy by appointing some other good man.

We are glad to report that there has been a slight increase over last year, or any previous year, in our Children's Day collections. We are enabled this year to pay over for the Chair of Religious Pedagogy and Sunday Schools in Vanderbilt University the sum of $532.56.

It is the purpose of the Board this year to make a strenuous effort to raise by a special collection from every Sunday school in the entire Conference as large a sum as possible for the endowment of this Chair of Religious Pedagogy and Sunday Schools in Vanderbilt University, and pray that the time will soon come when our superintendents and teachers can and will be admitted to this course as well as our young preachers.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

Report No. 1.

The Board of Education desire to report that they have carefully considered the report of the special committee of three appointed to examine into the proposition of the trustees of Martin College looking to a transfer of this property to the Tennessee Annual Conference, and have also given careful examination of this proposition themselves. The proposition of the trustees of the college is herewith submitted as a part of this report, as follows:

Whereas heretofore—to wit, October 14, 1907—resolutions were adopted by the Board of Trust of Martin Female College seeking more cordial relations between said college and the Tennessee Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and seeking the permanent, active, and earnest support of said Conference for said college; and whereas said resolutions were presented to and received by said

Annual Conference in regular session at Springfield, Tenn., October, 1907, and were by said Annual Conference referred to a special committee consisting of Rev. J. R. Stewart, Rev. J. T. Curry, and Hon. J. H. Dinning with instructions to investigate the subject and make report with recommendations to the next Annual Conference; and whereas a joint meeting of said Conference committee and the Board of Trust of said college was held in Pulaski, Tenn., on Tuesday, February 4, 1908, at which time, after a full discussion and consideration of the whole matter, it was unanimously agreed that closer relations between said college and said Annual Conference are desirable, with a view to securing the coöperation of said Annual Conference with the Board of Trust of said college in an effort to build up and permanently maintain Martin Female College as an institution of learning for the education of girls and young women; and whereas it was considered and agreed in and by said joint meeting of February 4, 1908, that the most feasible and practicable course to be pursued as a means of obtaining the desired coöperation and united effort of said Conference and said Board of Trust in upbuilding and successfully maintaining said college as an educational institution is for said Board of Trust of Martin College to convey to said Annual Conference, or to a board of trust to be created by said Annual Conference, the grounds, buildings, furniture, and equipment of Martin Female College, to have and permanently hold the same in trust for the uses and purposes of conducting and permanently maintaining an institution of learning for the education of girls and young women; therefore, with these objects in view,

Resolved, That the following proposition be submitted by the Board of Trust of Martin Female College to said Annual Conference, through its said special committee, to wit:

The Board of Trust of Martin Female College, for a cash consideration of $18,000 (eighteen thousand dollars), subject to provisions hereinafter specified, will sell, transfer, grant, and convey to the Tennessee Annual Conference, or to a board of trust to be created by said Annual Conference, the grounds, buildings, furniture, and equipment of Martin Female College, to have and to hold as a permanent trust for the purposes and uses of an educational institution only, for the education of girls and young women, to be permanently conducted and maintained in or adjacent to Pulaski, Tenn.

And in addition to a conveyance of the aforementioned property to said Annual Conference, or a board of trust for it, the Board of Trust of Martin College holds in trust for the use and benefit of said college an endowment of $30,000 (thirty thousand dollars), which endowment will be held under the provision of the bequest of Mr. Thomas Martin whereby said endowment was created, and the Board of Trust of said Martin Female College will annually or semiannually appropriate the interest accruing on said endowment, after July 1, 1909, to the use and support of said college so long as said college shall be conducted and maintained as an institution of learning for the education of girls and young women, and in conformity with the provisions of the trust, at Pulaski, Tenn., and designated by the name of "Martin."

PROVISO.

However, the foregoing proposition, it is agreed and understood, is submitted subject to the approval and confirmation of the Chancery Court at Pulaski, Tenn., Giles County, in a proper proceeding to be instituted in said court after a favorable action and acceptance of said proposition by said Tennessee Annual Conference.

We, L. E. Abernathy and W. J. Yancey, President and Secretary, respectively, of the Board of Trustees of Martin Female College, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a full, complete, and true copy of resolutions adopted by said Board February, 1908.

L. E. ABERNATHY, President;
W. J. YANCEY, Secretary.

From facts submitted to us in response to inquiries made in order to get at the true value of the property, we think it safe to say that the grounds, buildings, and equipment of the college are worth, at the lowest estimate, about $40,000.

We think the Tennessee Conference is greatly in need of an institution of learning for the education of girls and young women that shall be owned and controlled by the Conference.

We make the following recommendations:

1. That the Conference accept the proposition of the Trustees of Martin College, provided the financial obligations assumed by this Conference shall not be more than the amount named by the Trustees in the foregoing communication—viz., $18,000—and that any and all debts against the college beyond this amount shall be paid by the present Board of Trustees or assumed by them when the transfer of the property is consummated by the action of the Chancery Court of Giles County.

2. That the management of this property shall be committed to a board of trustees composed of twenty (20) members, ten clerical and ten laymen, who shall be elected by the Conference at this session of the Conference. Five of the lay members of the board shall be chosen from the city of Pulaski. The trustees shall be divided into four groups of five each, and the term of office of each group shall expire as follows: the first group at the Conference session of 1910, the second group in 1911, the third group in 1912, and the fourth group in 1913, after which the term of each group shall expire four years from their election. It shall be the duty of the Conference Board of Education to nominate to the Conference the members of the board of trustees.

Respectfully submitted.

W. F. TILLET, President;

E. P. ANDERSON, Secretary.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON MARTIN COLLEGE.

The committee who were appointed to inquire into certain legal questions involved in the proposed transfer of Martin College from the present Board of Trustees to a board appointed by this Conference beg leave to report that there are in their judgment no serious barriers in the way of the proposed transfer, and therefore recommend that the following paragraph be substituted in the place of recommendation No. 1 contained in the report of the Board of Education, which is now under consideration by the Conference:

1. The Conference hereby expresses its appreciation and acceptance of the generous and Christian spirit manifest in the proposition submitted to the Conference by the Trustees of Martin College. As the questions involved, however, are of very great importance to all concerned, and as the details to be worked out are numerous and more or less complicated, we recommend that a committee of three lawyers be appointed by this Conference with full power to act for the Conference in all matters affecting title and financial liability. If, upon investigation, said committee shall reach the conclusion that the Trustees of Martin College have a good title to said property, and have the right to convey the same to this Conference, and are of the further opinion that arrangements can be made with the parties holding the indebtedness of $18,000 against this property so that the same, if not otherwise provided for, can be paid out of the interest arising from the bonds mentioned in the proposition, then the said committee is hereby authorized to take such steps as are necessary to transfer and convey the said property to this Conference. And when this is consummated said property shall be turned over to the trustees to be elected by this Conference, who shall have full charge and control of the same, and shall proceed as may seem best in their judgment to conduct said college.

W. F. TILLET,
R. P. MCCLAIN,
J. L. NOLAN,
J. W. CHERRY,
W. B. ROMINE.

Report No. 2.

We have heard with pleasure the message of Dr. R. G. Waterhouse, representing the General Board of Education in the absence of the Secretary, Dr. J. D. Hammond. His arguments in favor of a trained and aggressive ministry to meet the pressing need for wise leadership in the Church at this time have been listened to with deep interest, and will, we hope, produce good and lasting results. We have noted with pleasure the emphasis which the General Board of Education is placing upon the home as an institution for Christian nurture. In developing this important part of our Church's educational work, our pastors can be and should be of the greatest possible service.

We must not fail to befriend and help our brothers in black in their efforts to secure better educational equipment whenever and wherever we can. The Colored Methodist Episcopal Church is recognized as one of the worthiest claimants upon our generosity.

OVERTURE FROM HOLSTON CONFERENCE.

The Holston Conference has appointed a commission of three members to inquire into the educational needs of the worthy but poor white families residing on the Cumberland Mountains in territory located partly in that Conference and partly in our Conference, with a view to the possible establishment of a Christian institution of learning at some suitable point in this territory. The Board of Missions and the Board of Education of the Holston Conference are taking an equal interest in the investigations of this commission. Dr. Waterhouse brings from the Holston Conference officially a request that our Conference appoint a similar commission to work jointly with their commission. It is thought that a point can be found on or near the border line separating the two Conferences where a school wisely located will meet the needs of both Conferences and furnish an opportunity to accomplish great good. We recommend favorable action upon this overture of the Holston Conference, and recommend as a commission to represent our Conference T. A. Kerley, President of the Board of Missions, W. F. Tillett, President of the Board of Education, and the presiding elder of the Lebanon District for next year—this commission to report back to this Conference at its next session the result of their investigations with whatever recommendations they may deem wise.

OUR INSTITUTIONS OF LEARNING.

The reports of Vanderbilt University, of the Correspondence School, and of the Methodist Training School indicate the largest patronage in their history. We desire to commend to our preachers and people as a school in every way worthy of their patronage Martin Female College, located at Pulaski, Tenn., and presided over by Prof. W. T. Wynn. We congratulate the Trustees and the patrons of the school upon their having secured one to serve them who is, in our judgment, eminently qualified to meet all the responsibilities of his office as President of the college. We have every reason to believe that the work that will be done in Martin College under the present management will give entire satisfaction to those who patronize it. We would again express our appreciation of the valuable work that is being done in our midst by many schools which are in charge of cultured and Christian teachers, and although not owned and controlled by our Church are rendering our preachers and people much-appreciated service. Worthy of special mention in this connection are the following: The Webb School, at Bellbuckle; the Branham and Hughes School, at Spring Hill; Howard Institute, at Mt. Pleasant; the Morgan School, at Fayetteville; the Peoples School, at Franklin; the Massey School, at Pulaski; the Hawkins School, at Gallatin;

the Cumberland City Training School; the Strayhorn School, at Cornersville; Soule College, at Murfreesboro; Buford College, at Nashville; the Normal College, at Dickson; and the Peoples and Tucker School, at Springfield.

We recommend the appointment of A. H. Shannon to educational work in Japan and C. R. Watkins as a student at Yale University.

THE BIBLICAL INSTITUTE.

The reports that come to us from the last session of the Biblical Institute are very gratifying, and lead us to believe that it is rendering a real and important service in the intellectual and spiritual life of our young preachers. We would urge all of our young preachers to enroll themselves for the coming year in the Correspondence School and the Quiet Hour League. The guidance and inspiration given through these channels to habits of reading and study and prayer will richly repay all who join in this fellowship of devout and studious souls who seek for themselves and others the highest and best things in the intellectual and spiritual life.

TRUSTEES OF MARTIN COLLEGE.

We nominate the following as trustees for Martin College, the adoption of this report constituting their due and proper election to office by this Conference—to wit, five whose term of office shall expire in 1913, viz., George L. Beale, T. A. Kerley, T. C. Ragsdale, T. E. Daly, and W. J. Yancey; five to serve till 1912, viz., J. W. Cherry, J. R. Stewart, J. B. Ferguson, A. L. King, and J. H. Dinning; five to serve till 1911, viz., W. B. Taylor, J. J. Stowe, E. B. Chappell, C. L. Cooper, Mark Arrowsmith; five to serve till 1910, viz., J. T. Curry, W. F. Tillett, Arthur B. Ransom, L. E. Abernathy, R. G. Peoples. If at the expiration of the term of office of any one or more trustees the Conference should by oversight or for other reason fail to elect their successors, we recommend that those who are in office shall continue to serve until their successors have been duly elected by the Conference.

The money raised by assessment for foreign missions within our Conference is paid to the Treasurer of the Parent Board, and by that body expended. "For foreign missions

*Condensed report of the Board. The full report, by a Conference vote, was ordered printed in pamphlet form we received from the home Church last year on assessments $400,364; or, including the amount from all other sources, a total of $540,523, an increase of $21,307. To this we may add the $226,192 received by the Woman's Board, giving a sum total of $766,716 for foreign missions, which lacks only $234,000 of making a round million for missions. We have 281 missionaries in our six fields, including our Woman's Board, 111 native preachers, and 20,999 members; or an increase of 2,270 during the past year, the largest in our history."

The above extract from the annual report of the Secretaries gives some idea of what is being done. As to the work of our Conference Board, 42 missions and two districts were aided the past year from our income of $9,000.

Having the oversight of mission work within our bounds, this Board insists that as far as possible really efficient men be appointed to missions; this Board will not be a substitute for the Joint Board of Finance. The success of our Conference missionary evangelist, Rev. J. A. Molloy, has been so great that we have decided to put two more men, Rev. John F. Beasley and Mr. Bell Regen, in the field. We rejoice in the success of the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Societies.

We would remind our pastors of the opportunity for service found in hospitals, jails, and poorhouses; nor must we forget the negroes, with their manifold needs. For them our Church in the past wrought a great work; under the altered conditions of to-day the service must be continued. Our interest in education must not wane; and while the public school should not be brought under a denominational influence, it should be brought in subjection to Him who is head over all. Substantial progress has been made; a wider field awaits us.

We nominate Dr. D. C. Kelley to be Conference Missionary Secretary, and Rev. J. A. Molloy and Rev. John F. Beasley to be Conference Missionary Evangelists.

MEMOIRS.

REV. BENJAMIN HINTON JOHNSON, son of James M. and Susan O. W. Johnson, was born November 14, 1847, at Holt's Corner, Marshall County, Tenn. He was converted and joined the Church in August, 1865. He was admitted on trial into the Tennessee Conference in October, 1875, at Fayetteville, Tenn., and immediately transferred to the Northwest Texas Conference, where he rendered efficient service for five years, being assigned to Comanche Station two years and to Graham Station three years. In October, 1880, he returned to the Tennessee Conference, and served the following charges: Dickson Circuit, four years; Santa Fe Circuit, two years; Lebanon Circuit, one year; Goodlettsville Circuit, four years; Douglass Circuit, three years; College Grove, two years; Sadlersville and Adams Station, two years; Big Creek Circuit, three years; Alexandria and Watertown, two years; Yellow Creek Circuit, two years; Asbury Circuit, one year; and was appointed to the Fountain Head Circuit at the last session of the Conference, with the hope that the pure air and water of that healthful section would help him, for his friends had already learned that he had contracted malaria, which was taking a deep hold upon his delicate frame. But it was too late; the disease had imbedded itself too deeply to be eradicated. He made a desperate fight. He determined to win, if possible. He kept up until the last Sunday in December, preaching twice that day. He retired at night feeling greatly depressed. The next day a physician was called in. Everything was done that loving hands could do. He grew gradually worse; and after fifty-three days of anxiety and suffering, he quietly slipped away from us and went home to God at about 2:15 P.M. February 20, 1908, at his parsonage home in Portland, Tenn. The funeral services were conducted in our church by the writer, assisted by the Revs. W. H. Doss and John A. McFerrin, of our Conference, and Rev. Mr. Huff, pastor of the Missionary Baptist Church of that town. His body was gently laid to rest in the village cemetery to await the resurrection morn. While Brother Johnson was always efficient and popular, perhaps he never entered upon the work of any charge with as much determination and appreciation as his last; and although he had been with his people for only a few months, he had completely won their hearts and confidence. Brother Johnson was twice married. On December 22, 1868, he led to the altar Miss Mattie Sheffield, who left for the spirit world in 1884. From this union four children are still living. They are Mrs. Clara Drake, Mrs. Maud Buford, Ephraim, and Benjamin H., Jr., all of whom are consistent members of the Church. In 1885 he was married to Miss Julia Neblett, who was in every way suited to the delicate position she assumed. She was a true wife, and, being possessed of a large degree of common sense, tact, and religion, performed well her part as mother to the children of her husband. One would never have known but that the stepchildren were her own. They are perfectly devoted to her. From this last marriage three children—one manly boy and two beautiful girls—still survive. B. H. Johnson was a manly man. He held himself aloof from everything that was mean and low. He hated hypocrisy and cant. He was always on the side of right, ready to courageously oppose that which was wrong. In his young manhood days he spent some time in teaching; and by his upright life and courtly demeanor made a profound impression for good upon the boys and girls committed to his care, many of whom date their conversion from his influence. He was a devoted husband and almost an ideal father. He was never happier than when in the bosom of his own family. It was his delight to spend the evenings in conversation with his companion and children. His children loved him with a devotion that was perfectly beautiful. It was a great pleasure to them to follow him about the place and to assist him in the work that he found to do. He was a faithful friend, ever loyal and true. He loved his brethren of the Tennessee Conference intensely. He was well equipped for the itinerancy. Reared in a home of culture, a graduate of Cumberland University, intelligent, energetic, and genial, unassuming, magnetic, soundly converted, a lover of the human family, and with a clear call to the ministry, he could not but succeed in this noble work. He was a fine pastor. It was his pleasure to visit from house to house, and especially to visit the aged and infirm, those that were shut in, and to talk to them about Christ and his power to save and to keep. He was a preacher of more than ordinary ability. His preaching was plain and pointed, clear and practical, scriptural and spiritual, devotional and evangelistic. In his younger days he was in great demand for revival meetings. During his pastorate on the Santa Fe Circuit scores of persons were converted and added to the Church in a revival wave that swept throughout that charge under his ministry. He loved the great fundamental doctrines of Methodism, and could present them as clearly and convincingly as any man I have ever

To him the ideal charge was a circuit of four appointments, so arranged as to permit him to do his pastoral work during the day and his preaching on Sunday, and be with his family at night. "Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord." He has gone from us. We shall see his face no more this side of the resurrection, but we hope to see him in the "land that is fairer than day." Till then, farewell! W. V. JARRATT.

REV. GEORGE S. BYROM passed from earth to heaven at five o'clock in the afternoon on Thursday, May 14, 1908, from the Wesley Memorial Hospital, in Atlanta, Ga. He was born September 25, 1839, in Franklin County, Tenn. Thomas and Agnes Faris Byrom were his parents. On February 24, 1870, he was happily married to Miss Sallie E. McElroy, daughter of Rev. Andrew McElroy, of the Presbyterian Church. Four children were born to them. Sister Byrom and their two daughters, Mrs. L. K. Smith, of Carrollton, Ga., Mrs. R. E. Foster, of Turin, Ga., and their son, Prof. George Lee Byrom, of Pocahontas, Va., survive him. One son, Early Marvin, died in his twelfth year. From early childhood Brother Byrom was religiously inclined. In his twelfth year he made a public profession of saving faith in Christ and assumed membership in the Church. Early in life he was conscious of his duty to preach the gospel of Christ, but he resisted the impression. He enlisted in the Confederate army and served faithfully until the last year of the war, when he was captured and paroled, and the final surrender of the Confederate army occurred before he was exchanged. The practice of law was his chosen profession, for which he read and studied; but he finally yielded to his mature and irrepressible convictions, and was licensed to preach in 1869 under the administration of Rev. Fountain E. Pitts. He was admitted on trial into the traveling connection by the Tennessee Conference at Pulaski, Tenn., in October, 1870. His name remained on the roll of effective preachers and he received his appointments regularly until October, 1906, when, in consequence of failing health, he received the superannuate relation at his own request. Subsequently he made his home in Carrollton, Ga., that he might live near his daughters. Inspiring ideals of pure life and noble character are found in the most unpretentious people. Brother Byrom was plain, positive, practical, and provident. In unalloyed honesty, in genuine humility, and in unaffected simplicity he was a model worthy of study and imitation. Without these qualities life is poor and perilous. The open mind, the guileless heart, the sincere purpose, the firm, intelligent conviction, the unflinching courage, the artless methods, the clear, impartial judgment, the unsophisticated truthfulness, the uniform cheerfulness, and the untiring faithfulness by which he was characterized are neither negative nor uncertain elements in Christian life. Conscience with him was a divine court of the soul where all moral issues were investigated, tried, and settled according to the word of God as he understood it. He had due regard for all legitimate authority, and was exemplary in his loyalty to God and men. His maxims had the highest moral significance, and his policy expressed the superiority of righteous principles over personal interests. He did not expect the end to justify the means, hence he did not knowingly indorse doubtful methods and do evil that good might come. Where evils only were to be considered he made no choice, because he was looking for good only in every choice of life. He believed in the final triumph of every righteous cause. In every struggle against the powers of darkness he evinced the courage of a hero and the endurance of a good soldier. In temporary defeat patience and resignation were supported by an ever-increasing faith in permanent and triumphant victory. Whether it resulted in pleasure or pain, in prosperity or privation, in honor or humiliation, he did his duty as he understood it, and his life was a practical commentary on that resolute word. For thirty-six years his faithfulness and efficiency were demonstrated under the difficult and exacting requirements of our itinerant system. There was no break in his efforts, no cessation of his energy. The stars that shine steadily night after night may be more beneficial to this world than the glitter and glare of an occasional comet. Constancy may be a greater virtue than extraordinary brilliancy, and industry may surpass genius. "But wisdom is justified of her children." "Wisdom is the principal thing." "The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom." Through prayer to "God that giveth to all men liberally" the supply is increased, and the winning of souls to Christ is the end. By this scriptural standard he was a wise man, for he brought many to Christ. He regarded punctuality as an important duty. Whether he was expected to discharge religious duties, exercise social functions, or meet business engagements, he was punctual if possible. His face radiant with love, his voice musical with cheer and happy with laughter, and his hand vigorous with the grasp of hearty fellowship—all indicated that he was an optimist by birth as well as practice. He saw some good in all men. Every vision had its hopeful and happy features. He saw in every cloud a silver lining. In every storm his refuge was in God, with a strong hold upon the hope that was set before him in the promises of God, which hope he had as an anchor of his soul. A bright, happy, hopeful child of God he was, who never yielded to the dark forebodings of despondent men. In domestic life his character was peculiarly strong and beautiful. His tender heart and reverent spirit, his gentle bearing and conscientious exercise of legitimate authority, his high regard for proper discipline and his keen sense of judicial fairness, his earnest desire for the best possible attainments and the sweetest fellowships of the home life, with the golden rule as his basis—all contributed to his efficiency as the paternal head. The writer cannot refrain from quoting a single testimonial from a private letter that was written by his devoted wife. She writes in part: "I am glad the Lord so honored me as to permit me to be his companion for a little more than thirty-eight years. I loved him, and it was hard to say good-by." During his last illness he said to one of his physicians: "No man ever had a better wife than I have had. She has always stood by me, true and faithful, sharing every joy and helping to bear every burden." His devotion to his children was sensible and practical, as well as beautiful. Their moral and religious character, their intellectual training, their fellowship with God, and their efficiency in Christian work were to him matters of prayerful and unceasing solicitude. Outside the sacred precincts of the home he had many friends and magnified the offices of genuine friendship. No man was ever more responsive and accommodating when help was needed. To the young and inexperienced, to the weak and wayward, to the doubtful and discouraged, to the aged and infirm he was specially kind. He had peculiar pleasure in preaching the gospel to the poor. Revivals resulting in many conversions and in general good to the people who were reached by them were common in his ministry. Patient resignation to the will of God in all things and in sickness and in health was one of his crowning graces and one that shone with unusual brilliancy in his latter days. A preacher with so many charming graces and with resources so abundant could hardly fail to be efficient and acceptable. On the twelfth day of last March, while working in his garden, he hurt his finger on a cornstalk. It was not considered serious until several days afterwards, when blood poisoning developed. A physician was called, and later he was carried to the hospital, where he received every attention that physicians, nurses, and loving friends could render. The ordeal of most intense suffering through which he passed without a murmur continued seven weeks. To his wife, who was constantly at his bedside until the last two days, when she was unable to be there any longer, he said: "The Lord has blessed me wonderfully. He does not even permit me to have an unpleasant dream. My soul is filled with glory." His daughter who witnessed his departure says: "He gently went to sleep to wake in a world of joy and peace." He made many friends and was honored greatly in Carrollton, where he lived during his superannuation, and where his body sleeps. The funeral services were heard. Had he been inclined to push himself, he might easily have forged his way to the front and occupied some of our leading pulpits; but he had no aspiration along this line. To him the ideal charge was a circuit of four appointments, so arranged as to permit him to do his pastoral work during the day and his preaching on Sunday, and be with his family at night. To the young and inexperienced, to the weak and wayward, to the doubtful and discouraged, to the aged and infirm he was specially kind. He had peculiar pleasure in preaching the gospel to the poor. Revivals resulting in many conversions and in general good to the people who were reached by them were common in his ministry. Patient resignation to the will of God in all things and in sickness and in health was one of his crowning graces and one that shone with unusual brilliancy in his latter days. A preacher with so many charming graces and with resources so abundant could hardly fail to be efficient and acceptable. On the twelfth day of last March, while working in his garden, he hurt his finger on a cornstalk. It was not considered serious until several days afterwards, when blood poisoning developed. A physician was called, and later he was carried to the hospital, where he received every attention that physicians, nurses, and loving friends could render. The ordeal of most intense suffering through which he passed without a murmur continued seven weeks. To his wife, who was constantly at his bedside until the last two days, when she was unable to be there any longer, he said: "The Lord has blessed me wonderfully. He does not even permit me to have an unpleasant dream. My soul is filled with glory." His daughter who witnessed his departure says: "He gently went to sleep to wake in a world of joy and peace." He made many friends and was honored greatly in Carrollton, where he lived during his superannuation, and where his body sleeps. The funeral services were conducted at the Methodist church in Carrollton by the pastor, Rev. William Dunbar, assisted by other ministers. He used 2 Samuel iii. 38 as a text. In honor to him all the business houses were closed and a vast concourse of people attended the funeral. The Masonic Fraternity joined in the tribute to his memory, and performed their beautiful and impressive service at the grave. He was not without honor among strangers, where in the providence of God he spent his last days; nor was he without honor in his own country and among his own people. He was worthy of all the honors bestowed. We rejoice that he lived, and mourn his departure. He left a message of love with his wife for his brethren of the Tennessee Conference which is hereby recorded. He left to his family and friends the legacy of a good name, which "is rather to be chosen than great riches." He left to his Church a pure and stainless character, abundant in good works which he accomplished. He left to the world the unimpeachable testimonials of a triumphant faith and an example worthy of imitation. "How blest the righteous when he dies!"

H. B. REAMS.

GEORGE WASHINGTON ANDERSON, son of Jacob and Abigail Anderson, was born in Bedford County, Tenn., September 20, 1829; and died in the faith, according to the teachings of Methodism, June 2, 1908, in Huntsville, Ala., at the home of his daughter, Mrs. S. E. Wasson, wife of Rev. S. E. Wasson. After his retirement he lived with his son, J. J. Anderson, in Nashville, visiting the other children whenever his strength would permit. A review of a life so full of good deeds and all aglow with faith and love must necessarily be the merest epitome. In his estimation the greatest event of his life was his second or new birth, which occurred in Shiloh Church, Bedford Circuit, August 26, 1857; and here he united with the Church in 1858, during the pastorate of William H. Anthony and while William Doss was presiding elder. He obtained license to preach at Olivet Church in November, 1858, during the administration of J. C. Putman, presiding elder, and Allen Tribble, preacher in charge. In 1860 he was recommended for the traveling connection, and on October 10 of the same year was admitted on trial into the Tennessee Annual Conference at Clarksville, Tenn., Bishop George F. Pierce presiding. At City Road Chapel, near Nashville, he was ordained a deacon by Bishop Joshua Soule May 19, 1864. At Tulip Street Church, Nashville, Tenn., he was ordained an elder by Bishop H. H. Kavanaugh October 8, 1865. Without a suggestion from any one outside of his own family, he applied for and obtained a superannuated relation from the Annual Conference convened at Clarksville in the fall of 1898. In a brief sketch like this not even a passing notice can be given the various charges which he filled so acceptably. His appointments were as follows: Manchester Circuit, Bedford Circuit, Tullahoma Circuit, Lynchburg Circuit, Hickory Creek Circuit, Manchester Station, Manchester and McMinnville Station, Unionville Circuit, presiding elder of McMinnville District, Stone's River Circuit, Guthrie Circuit, Pisgah Circuit, Lynnville and Olivet Station, Dickson Station, and South Street Station—a term of forty years as pastor. He was a close student of our Methodist literature, not inclined to disputation, but ready at all times to give a reason for his faith. While earnest in his delivery, he was didactic, more desirous of winning souls than of applause. Being a gentleman by nature in his manner and deportment, his presence was a benison in every home that he visited. In the bosom of his family, with his wife and children about him, he maintained at all times the same gentleness of manner and sweetness of spirit. He not only loved his wife, but respected her. The different members of his family, during his period of superannuation, vied with each other in claiming the blessedness of his presence. The Saviour said: "Whom do men say that I the Son of man am?" The answer to this scripture as it applies to the followers of Christ can only be given in all its entirety after death. Now that he has gone hence, whom do men say George W. Anderson was? Bishop Fitzgerald said: "He is the personation of the thirteenth chapter of 1 Corinthians. The record of his service in the Confederate army as a minister is thrilling. Blessings on the memory of Brother Anderson, who kept step with the soldiers when they marched, preached to them the gospel of the grace of God, who ministered to the wounded and dying and buried the dead!" H. B. Reams says: "He was one of the purest men that I have ever known, a good example for character study, an all-round Christian, combining goodness and strength." A voice from Dickson says: "For four years he was pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in this place, in which capacity he was greatly beloved, not only by the members of his Church, but by the people generally. Some of the greatest religious work ever accomplished in Dickson was during his pastorate. His death is a source of sorrow not only to the people of this community, but to many others whom he served so long and earnestly." His son, J. J. Anderson, says: "Father was so thoroughly honest himself that he could not get it into his head that any one else was dishonest." His children were a blessing and an honor to him. Those who survive are Rev. E. P. Anderson, pastor of McFerrin Memorial Church; Dr. W. B. and J. J. Anderson, of Nashville; Drs. R. M. and F. C. Anderson, of Oklahoma; Mrs. S. E. Wasson, of Huntsville; and Mrs. Bascom Abernathy, of Pulaski. After a service conducted by Rev. T. C. Ragsdale, Bishop O. P. Fitzgerald, and Rev. H. B. Reams, he was placed beside his devoted wife in the Pulaski cemetery.

WILLIAM M. GREEN.

JOHN CASTO KEATHLEY was born in White County, Tenn., April 13, 1874. His parents were Harrison H. and Nannie J. Keathley. He was converted and joined the M. E. Church, South, August 28, 1887. He was married to Ida Justice, of Fairfield, Bedford County, Tenn., December 24, 1895. He was admitted on trial into the Tennessee Conference October 24, 1895, at Winchester, Tenn. He served the following charges: Rock Island Mission, Woodbury Mission, Faulkner Station, Rockvale and Tarpley, Stone's River Circuit, and Wartrace and Tullahoma. Because of failing health Brother Keathley, at the Conference at Springfield October 19, 1907, applied for and was granted a superannuated relation. On October 3, 1908, he quietly departed this life from his home in Wartrace, Tenn., and was buried by the side of the only child ever born to his happy married life. The funeral services were conducted by his pastor, Rev. W. J. Walkup, and the Rev. G. A. Morgan, of Murfreesboro Station.

All the work of our departed brother was in the bounds of the Murfreesboro District, and in every charge are those who feel keenly a severe loss in his going. Far behind his nativity were godly preparations. His ancestors were truly pious and God-fearing people. Many preachers of the gospel were among them, and all of them men and women of prayer. His own father and mother dedicated their children to God as soon as they were born, and thus was our brother started toward the life of that goodness and usefulness that plainly marked his beautiful life from the cradle to his grave. He very early in life manifested a desire to preach. He was one of about ten of his kindred to enter the ministry of the Methodist Church. Brother Keathley entered the ministry by the pattern or plan of the early preachers, and one is reminded of what Paul says of Timothy's pre-conducted at the Methodist church in Carrollton by the pastor, Rev. William Dunbar, assisted by other ministers. He used 2 Samuel iii. 38 as a text. All the work of our departed brother was in the bounds of the Murfreesboro District, and in every charge are those who feel keenly a severe loss in his going. Far behind his nativity were godly preparations. His ancestors were truly pious and God-fearing people. Many preachers of the gospel were among them, and all of them men and women of prayer. His own father and mother dedicated their children to God as soon as they were born, and thus was our brother started toward the life of that goodness and usefulness that plainly marked his beautiful life from the cradle to his grave. He very early in life manifested a desire to preach. He was one of about ten of his kindred to enter the ministry of the Methodist Church. Brother Keathley entered the ministry by the pattern or plan of the early preachers, and one is reminded of what Paul says of Timothy's previous preparedness, as follows: "I thank God, whom I serve from my forefathers with pure conscience, that without ceasing I have remembrance of thee in my prayers night and day; greatly desiring to see thee, being mindful of thy tears, that I may be filled with joy; when I call to remembrance the unfeigned faith that is in thee, which dwelt first in thy grandmother Lois, and thy mother Eunice; and I am persuaded that in thee also." He was a good preacher, and commanded the attention of his hearers wherever he preached. He knew how to use the gifts in his hands or within his reach; and because of this knowledge his usefulness was greatly multiplied, and numbers of lives moved toward God and heaven under his ministry. He was a true Christian and thoroughly loyal to every duty and requirement of the Church. He was a manly man, and had the respect of all men. He was possessed with a keen insight into those things in life that go toward making home or a community joyous and happy. While a successful preacher and true Christian, he was also a clean citizen and a courageous friend. The older people trusted him and the children loved him. He was not strong for quite a while before he died, but did not neglect his work in any particular. He was exceedingly anxious to do all a congregation would naturally expect of him, and hence exposed himself at times when he should have been housed. It was a sad hour when at last he was assured that he must give up his pulpit work and retire from his active ministry. He often said to the writer: "I want to live until I can get a home secured for my wife." He lived only one year after he was assured by his physician of his severe heart trouble. He was cheerful through it all, and often said: "It is all right; the future has no fears for me." I saw him just a few weeks before his death, and his very last words to me were: "I now hope to be with you all at Conference; if I am not there, think of me." For just a short while only before his expiring moments was he confined to his bed. On the night he died his friends felt that he was sleeping sweetly and would not require the usual medicine for rest; and all were rejoicing that his repose was so natural and restful, when there was discovered an ordinary nervous moving of the muscles of his body, but no particular struggle. When spoken to, he did not open his eyes from slumber, but ceased to breathe, his heart was still, his pure spirit had gone home. In the last weeks of his life he thought much about the preparation needed for his departure. He sang and prayed with the pathos and intelligence of one conscious of his early going. A favorite hymn he often sang while alone was, "I love thy kingdom, Lord, the house of thine abode." He was heard to try to sing this old song a short while before death, but strength failed him and the words lingered upon his lips as he passed into the realms of bliss. He has left with this Conference a good name and a good record. Those of us who were closest to him feel keenly our loss. The Rev. W. B. Lowry, his uncle, and the Rev. S. M. Keathley, his brother, are members of this Conference. Other near relatives severely bereft are his wife, his mother, his sister, and his brothers. He is gone. The golden ladder came to his pillow as he lay waiting for his call, and, as was his habit in meeting duty, he at once went up to his God. His safe conduct was the God of heaven himself, and I am sure Brother Keathley is now weighing his treasures in.
